

The Synchronicity Experiment -

to be held at the Integral Summer Gathering “Integrales Sommertreffen” in Gorenzen/Harz, Juni 2021

by Viktória G Duda, Ph.D.

THE IDEA

A group experiment about synchronicities, in two sessions:

- 1) a talk about the topic and the idea in general,
- 2) a group hypnosis/guided visualisation to set the intent.

Afterwards, individual experiences will be collected, processed and shared (online blog, article, and/or presentation).

THE THEORY

As we are moving into our next evolutionary stage (turquoise and above), it seems that the development of a collective consciousness becomes paramount. Early ideas (e.g. Teilhard de Chardin's Omega Point) and various field theories (e.g. Sheldrake's morphogenetic fields, Bache's living classroom, László's Akashic field, Bohm's implicit order) lay the foundation for it and there are also some leading-edge experiments (e.g. group dreaming, or the Maharishi effect) which suggest the possibility of consciousness developing on a collective level.

But how can we imagine and help collective consciousness to develop? Even those of us, who have experienced in a satori or other spiritually significant experiences the unity of all-there-is, the vantage point of our consciousness remains individual. Bruce Lipton likened the development of collective consciousness to the evolutionary step when single cells organised themselves into multi-celled organisms, and finally developed into complex multi-celled organisms with specialised organs. Similarly, our single consciousnesses may in future be able to link into a unified field of multiple consciousness, (within which perhaps there will be specialised groups, similar to “organs”).

What can we do today to help this process commencing? If we liken our collective consciousness to a global neural network, what can we do to begin creating synaptic connections?

The hypothesis of this social experiment is that 1) mutual synchronistic events help establish connections within such network and 2) synchronistic events can be facilitated by unified intent.

THE EXPERIMENT

On the first day of the meeting (after a general talk about the topic) there would be a group meditation (guided visualisation) in three steps:

1. Connect to your (own, personal) authentic purpose.
2. Feel the (energetic) connection to the “network” (of all other participants).
3. Send intent into the network for making connections to help your purpose mutually.

THE STUDY

For the next three days, participants are requested to watch out for and document any synchronistic events which may be connected with the unified intent. We watch out for connections which link people with similar and/or compatible purposes together and thus help them be part of a collective higher purpose.

The cases of synchronicity will be collected and qualitatively evaluated. The results will later be shared on the internet, through published article(s) and perhaps live at future integral meetings.
